Reviving the lost art of ironing

By SHIRLEY W. WALTON
Extension Agent

Ironing is certainly less difficult and less time consuming thanks to permapress fabrics and finishes, tumble drying and steam ironing, but the art is undergoing a revival with increased use of natural fibers such as silk, cotton and linen. It can be made easier with "an ounce of prevention" techniques to discourage wrinkling in the first place.

Be sure to check carefully the garment labels you receive as gifts during the holidays. These labels need to be very carefully checked for care instructions. Many times we don't check them until after we have washed them or dry cleaned them and then it may be too late. For machine washing, use the wash water temperature and agitation and spin cycles suggested by the manufacturer. The permapress cycle of a washer, for example, helps prevent the setting of wrinkles in such items by cooling the wash water before a spin and using a low spin speed.

Dryer temperature and time are equally important. Separate light weights from heavy pieces for more even drying. Absorbent and bulky fabrics retain more moisture and take longer to dry. Don't dry too large a load at one time. Clothes need room to move freely to reduce wrinkling. The use of a permanent cycle in drying calls for a 10 minute cool down at the end of the cycle for wrinkle free results of these garments. Avoid overdrying of all wash loads. This not only tends to set wrinkles, but makes clothes feel harsh and use extra electricity.

It is very important to remove clothes from the dryer drum at the proper time, generally as soon as the machine stops. However, don't simply drop the dried laundry into the basket. Prompt attention to smoothing seams, collars and cuffs on blouses, shirts and dresses, and hanging them up helps cut down or eliminate ironing board duty. The same treatment applies to trousers. Many light wrinkles will hang out or require just a quick touch up pressing. Undergarments, play clothes and knits need only to be smoothed and folded. Flat pieces such as table cloths and napkins should also be smoothed to reduce wrinkling and make ironing easier. Ironables may be removed from the dryer damp. If ironing is to be done later, they can be stored in a plastic bag. Items like corduroys, quilted fabrics and knits retain their shape better if removed from the dryer before they are completely dry and while they still have a trace of moisture in them.

With the use of a steam iron and a ventilated ironing table that permits the steam to move through the clothing, dampening and hard ironing are things of the past, especially if overdrying is avoided.

Have a good week and happy 1981!

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT: Don't forget to tune in Metro, Channel 13, WSET, at 10:30 a.m. on Friday, January 2, 1981. The 10 wool participants from Appomattox County will be guests on Metro.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Mrs. Babcock's Creamed Cabbage Casserole

NOTE: This will be a delicious change from all of the traditional holiday food.

Cut medium fine 1 fresh green cabbage (2 to 2½ pounds). Boil cabbage in salted water (1 teaspoon salt to 1 quart water) for about 15 minutes or until tender. Do not cook until the cabbage is soft.

Drain well and put ½ cabbage into baking dish. Add a layer of white sauce, then another layer of cabbage and white sauce.

Top with 1 ½ to 2 cups buttered bread crumbs which have been slightly browned and crumbled finely. This casserole can be refrigerated until ready for serving, then it can be put into a 300° oven and warmed for approximately 20 minutes or until hot.

The white sauce is as follows:

2 cups milk
4 tablespoons flour
1 stick butter or margarine
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper

Melt butter in saucepan, add salt, pepper and flour. Mix well. Add milk and stir until thickened, and smooth.

The delicious creamed cabbage casserole is a favorite of Mrs. Annie Laurie Babcock's. All of us know of Mrs. Babcock's excellent reputation as a great cook. Many thanks to her for sharing this delicious casserole with us.

Buckingham gets $250

The Buckingham Volunteer Rescue Squad is one of the 16 volunteer units which will receive a grant from the state Rescue Squad Assistance Fund, according to State Health Commissioner Dr. James B. Kenley.

The Buckingham squad will receive a $250 grant for M.A.S.T. trousers, according to Kenley.

Rescue Squad Assistance Fund grants will total $246,592 across the state this year, according to Kenley. The fund was established in 1978 by the Virginia General Assembly to provide financial aid to rescue squads and other emergency medical services agencies that operate on a non-profit basis solely for the benefit of the general public.

Recommendations for grant recipients are made by the state's Emergency Medical Service Advisory Council to the state Health Commissioner who makes the final decision. In this grant cycle, there were 116 applicants requesting more than $1.3 million.

Galilee sets meet

All officers and members are asked to attend the annual Galilee church meeting this Saturday evening, Jan. 3, 1981 at 7 p.m. The program of work for the New Year will be presented.

We are happy to report that the holiday was observed in a very quiet manner. The cold icy weather caused many local churches to postphone Sunday services.

Many local young people were home for the holiday season. The following visited their relatives: James Robinson, Norfolk State; Willis Fleshman and Gwen Turner, Ferrum College; Marzetta Hodnett and Andrew Kelso, VPI; Penney Elliott, Nadine Fleshman, Selliva Booker and Wanda Forest of CVCC.

Larry Kelso of the USA is visiting his parents.

The general public is invited to worship at the Galilee Baptist Church this First Sunday morning at 11 a.m.

Messers Daniel and McKinley Torrence visited relatives and friends during the holiday season.

Rev. James Gafford and daughter of New York spent the week end here with his mother, Mrs. Mattie Gafford and family.

Kitchen-Dining Area are Combined in Separate Area

Attractive Ranch House Features Large Central Activity Room

FEATURE HOMES
©By W. D. FARMER

The size of the activity room in this three bedroom ranch house creates a very open feeling since the room extends the width of the house. False beams and a fireplace highlight the room. There is also a private rear access to the wood deck.

A folding door entrance leads to the dining area from the activity room and the well equipped kitchen features all the latest appliances in addition to the wall cabinets and pantry space.

A laundry is adjacent to the kitchen. It also includes wall cabinets and features entrances to both the wood deck and the spacious carport.

Stairs from the central hall offer access to the basement and here also is a bath and disappearing stair, the latter leading to attic storage space.

Two similar sized bedrooms feature ample closet space and have plenty of usable wall area. Both bedrooms are convenient to the bath across the hall. The master bedroom includes a bath with a shower. Closet space is good here too.

The exterior is enhanced by gable porch entrance, brick construction and shuttered windows.

The plan is Number 567B. It includes 1,529 square feet of heated area. Front wall changes for B front pictured are shown on actual working drawings. All W. D. Farmer plans include special construction details for energy efficiency and are guaranteed to meet FHA and VA requirements. For further information write W. D. Farmer, P.O. St. Luke News

Old man winter was pushing out very cold weather. Yet on Sunday, Dec. 21 at 11:00 a.m. a good crowd of members and friends attended the 3rd Sunday preaching services. The pastor, Rev. J. E. McLaughlin was in charge and taught the Adult Class. Then went into the services for the day. Text John 3:16 Subject He Looked Beyond My Faults and Saw My Needs. This was a good Christmas message and well taken by the listeners. The First St. Luke Gospel Chorus gave the music, same was inspiring. The offering was good.

After the close of the services, the Christmas tree program was enjoyed. The church, under the direction of the pastor has given gifts of fruit to shut-in, ill, lonely, aged and widowed ones of the community. This was done and over 180 packages were handed out.

The spirit of the season is far reaching. Mrs. Louise Canada and her group, Mrs. Stella Hurtt, Mrs. Virginia Hurtt, Mrs. Venessa Mason, Mrs. Louise Blankenship, Mrs. Esther Bradley, Mrs. Evatna Prophett, Mrs. Eva Payne, Mrs. Chasity Younger and Van Driver, Mrs. Bosyln Burnette were invited and attended a Christmas luncheon at the Lynchburg Home and Hospital Dec. 17 12:00 noon, honoring the entire volunteer service they have rendered through the year at the hospital. This was much enjoyed. The dishes were amazingly beautiful.

Mr. S. G. James Hunter and wife are guest in the home of his mother, Sadie Scott for the holidays.

The First St. Luke Gospel Chorus was engaged in a musical concert at the Hat Creek Baptist Church Sunday at 6:00 p.m.

Mr. Bolin Jones is a patient in the hospital

Many out of town relatives and friends are expected to be home for Christmas.

To the Times-Virginian may each of you have a good Christmas and a successful New Year so that the paper can keep coming. We enjoy it so much and would certainly miss it if it were not there.

Jordan

In spite of the bad weather, a very impressive congregation was present at our regular 4th Sunday worship service. Rev. Elliott preached a very timely and inspiring message.

On the 1st Sunday in January at 3 p.m., Mrs. Margaret Smith of the 5th Street Baptist Church will be doing a solo concert. This program is for the benefit of the Sunday School ad the public is invited to attend.

We wish to each and every one a very Happy New Year.
